Month of September	Brockville Museum Exhibit: "Where are My Specs?" 5 Henry Street, Brockville On display at the Brockville Library during the month of September is a variety of eyeglasses from the collection of the Brockville Museum. Many of the eyeglasses were purchased from local optometrists between 1870 and 1960. Take a look and see which ones would suit you today!	613-342-4397 www.brockvillemuseum.com
NOW – Sept 4 Wed-Sat 8pm Wed, Thurs, Sat & Sun – Matinees 2:30 pm	Up the River: A Family Musical Springer Theatre 690 Charles St. South, Gananoque Inspired by Kenneth Grahame's well-loved tale Wind in the Willows, playwrights John Corrigan, songwriter David Archibald and Kathryn MacKay have updated and renewed this classic tale and set it on the St. Lawrence River. Brimming with humour, music and fun, the play begins on the docks of the Playhouse as we are introduced to the characters that live along the river. After the outdoor show featuring surfer dudes, big production numbers and boats of all descriptions, playgoers head into the Springer Theatre for more adventure. As we follow Toad's madcap escapades we ask about the nature of home, friendship and how the river informs how we live here in Eastern Ontario. Fun for the whole family!	Admission: $32/$10 Tickets also available at the Grand Theatre box office, 218 Princess Street, Kingston. 613-382-7020 866-382-7020 boxoffice@1000islandsplayhouse.com www.1000islandsplayhouse.com
NOW – Sept 4 Wed-Sat 8pm Wed, Thurs, Sat & Sun – Matinees 2:30 pm	Up the River Festival Springer Theatre 690 Charles St. South, Gananoque The Up the River Festival in Gananoque promises non-stop family fun during the month of August, beginning on August 6 with the Gala opening of Up the River at the Thousand Islands Playhouse. Loosely based on the classic children's story The Wind in the Willows, Up the River takes Kenneth Graham's beloved characters and relocates them to the banks of the St. Lawrence River circa 1910. In addition to the production, the Thousand Islands Playhouse has developed a month-long festival of events inspired by the story of Toad and his adventures. Join us for soap box races, mini-plays, musical tours, art exhibits, historical boat tours, Geo-Cache treasure hunts and more!	Admission: $32/$10 Tickets also available at the Grand Theatre box office, 218 Princess Street, Kingston. 613-382-7020 866-382-7020 boxoffice@1000islandsplayhouse.com www.1000islandsplayhouse.com
